The institution of marriage is under attack in America. Homosexual marriages are on the rise while heterosexual marriages are declining.

Ground zero of this attack has now come to Portland, Oregon. After much secret planning with homosexual activists and others, Multnomah County Chair Diane Linn ordered Multnomah County staff to start issuing marriage licenses (starting yesterday Wednesday, 4/3/04) to homosexual couples.

We don't have to travel cross-country to fight to save heterosexual marriages, the national battle has come to our own backyard right here in Portland, Oregon. There will be a ballot measure soon to ban homosexual marriages in Oregon. If you are not registered to vote, you will not be able to help in the battle. As far as I know, I am the only Portland City Council candidate speaking out against homosexual marriage and community leadership.

As we now know from the historical experience of some Portland churches, placing homosexuals in positions of community leadership has led to millions of dollars in legal settlements. Also, the lives of many young people have been ruined. If we don't speak out, what kind of message are we sending to our children about our willingness to protect them? Act now before it's too late!
